

First Generation

1. James Anderson "Jas" Francisco

Birth: 1786, Cumberland, Cumberland Co., VA
Death: 13 Nov 1839, Aberdeen, Mississippi^{1,2}
Burial: Sinking Spring Cemetery, Abingdon, VA
Father: Peter Francisco (9 Jul 1760-16 Jan 1831)
Mother: Susannah Anderson³ (1765-1790)

They had 8 additional children, but they all died young.^{4 5}

"James was amongst the adventurers from Virginia to the far West, allured by the prospect of improving his fortune, and placing his little family beyond the reach of adversity. He was pre-eminently blessed with a vigorous constitution, and a large dividend of health. But, alas! what can all these rich endowments avail, when we are exposed to the malignant diseases of a hostile climate! 'He has gone to his long home,' and left a destitute, disconsolate and affectionate wife, and two infant children to mourn their irredeemable loss'. James Francisco was brave, generous, affectionate and enterprising: The writer of this small tribute to his memory and his integrity, can truly affirm, that he was, in the genuine acceptation of the word, AN HONEST MAN: and indulges in the vital hope, that 'the same Providence who caters for the sparrow, and stills the clamors of the young ravens of the wilderness, when they cry unto him for food, will dispose the hearts of the benevolent and humane, to furnish the widow'd mourner, and orphan children of James A. Francisco, with both food and raiment". P.⁶

The Francisco plantation was located between a small town in Alabama known as Courtland and Aberdeen, Mississippi.⁵

Spouse: Judith Woodson Michaux (13 Dec 1788-26 May 1870)
Birth: 13 Dec 1788, Abingdon, VA
Death: 26 May 1870, Abingdon, VA⁷

Mother: Judith Woodson (23 Mar 1747-16 Aug 1803)
Marriage: 11 Jun 1814, Cumberland Co., VA⁸

Judith Michaux had relatives who had previously settled in that locality. My father also remembered with delight some of his boyhood experiences amid the Choctaw Indians and at one time when living in Blacksburg he was visited by a chief with whom he had played when a lad in Mississippi, and who had succeeded his father as chief of the Indian tribe. ⁵

Second Generation

2. Capt. Robert Lafayette Francisco²

Birth: 3 Oct 1826, Mississippi⁵
Death: 9 Aug 1886, Greeneville, Greene Cty., TN¹
Burial: Oak Grove Cemetery, Greeneville, TN¹
Father: James Anderson "Jas" Francisco (1786-13 Nov 1839)
Mother: Judith Woodson Michaux (13 Dec 1788-26 May 1870)
Occupation: cabinet maker⁹

He was of the same stature as his grandfather, Peter Francisco.¹⁰

"My father was a Mississippian by birth and came to Virginia when a lad of fourteen with his mother and one brother, the two living children remaining from the ten born to James Anderson Francisco and his wife Judith Michaux in Mississippi and Alabama. The reason for their coming was that their father had befriended a neighbor in a process of security that caused him to lose most of his property when he died suddenly and left his widow to rear the children."⁵

When through with school and it was decided that Robert Francisco should go to the mountains to secure better health, he went by horse back to Montgomery County, Virginia and in due time at Blacksburg met and married Keziah Black. The blending of sweet voices in music each evening as the Black family gathered on a long porch of the home, was wafted to the town nearby and so enticed him he requested an introduction and it was not long ere his rich bass was added to their songs. It was not surprising when he asked Charles Black for the hand of his daughter in marriage and the consent was graciously given. When through with school and it was decided

He was a private in Capt. C.A. Ronald's company of Highland Rangers from Montgomery, Co., VA and on duty at Harper's Ferry. He desired "to obtain the sword, now in the Armory in Richmond, which was made to the order of his celebrated revolutionary ancestor, to be used in the war of 1812. It is five feet in length and heavy in proportion, and it will take a man of considerable longitude to draw it from its scabbard. Robert L. Francisco bears more resemblance to his Samson-like ancestor in size and strength than any of his ancestry. We trust the Governor may send him the sword with a pledge to return it, if he survives the "shock of battle", and that he may do that, and emulate the example of Peter Francisco, of revolutionary fame, in making at least nine Hessians bite the dust, is the prayer of all good people."⁷

Spouse: Keziah Stephens "Mary" Black¹ (3 Mar 1831-26 May 1903)
Birth: 3 Mar 1831, Virginia
Death: 26 May 1903, Greeneville, Greene, TN⁵
Burial: Oak Grove Cemetery, Greeneville, TN¹
Father: Charles Black⁵ (1796-1853)
Mother: Rhoda McDONALD^{5,11} (1805-1859)
Marriage: 19 Apr 1851⁵

Of Blacksburg, VA They had four other children.⁴

The old John Black home built in 1786-7 has been moved from the original site to a near by hill side, and not so pretentious as formerly as part of the house was lost in the move and never rebuilt. The War Memorial Building stands where the old home had welcomed strangers and friends in days gone by but the move for lack of sentiment was termed as Virginia's progress. The Black descendants are proud however that love of the best in culture and education was given to that section by their forebears and the name of the town perpetuates the name of the Black family and their descendants.⁵

Mr. Charles Pender “Bud” Edwards III, passed away peacefully at his home in Asheville, NC on September 10, 2014. He was the son of C.P. Edwards, Jr and Flora Massengill of Kingsport TN; grandson of Dr. C.P. Edwards, Sr. and Valeria Bailey of Asheville, NC. Bud, a native of Kingsport, was born on March 11, 1929. He graduated from Tennessee Military Institute, attended Vanderbilt University, and served in the US Air Force during the Korean conflict and was stationed in Greenland. He was CEO and Director of all the Edwards Enterprises companies. Recognized as a pioneer and creative visionary of resort development in the South, Bud developed one of the first ski resorts in the south, Ober Gatlinburg, followed by Wolf Laurel on Big Bald Mountain, NC a 5000-acre golf and ski resort. In later years, Bud pursued his passion for antiques as a collector, dealer, student and authority. Bud grew up with a hunting rifle in one hand and a fishing rod in the other. As an adventurous and true outdoorsman, Bud loved big game hunting in Africa and Alaska and bill fishing in the Caribbean. Bud’s bear hunt in the Alaskan peninsula was the featured article in the December 1961 edition of Sports Afield. He was asked to lead a team into the Grand Canyon to test the first American imported Toyota Land Cruiser. As an enthusiastic collector of Indian relics, he was responsible for the discovery of an ancient Indian burial ground on the banks of the Holston River. He donated many of his Indian relic collections and big game trophies to numerous museums through the southeast. Bud was a lover of life and nature, the Tennessee Vols and coconut cream pie. Graced with a generous, encouraging, and forgiving soul, a quick wit, a knack for storytelling and a rock solid memory, he was loved and will be missed by many. Bud is survived by four children – Penn Edwards of Asheville, Amy Edwards (Jim Hensley) of Robbinsville, Brown Edwards (Lori) of Atlanta, and Scott Edwards (Ase Axberg) of Stockholm and five grandchildren – Matthew Ensner (Megan Sommerville), Taylor Edwards, Grace Edwards, Daniel Edwards, and Molly Edwards Axberg. "Thompson, Margaret "Peggy" Ann Dunlap Born: 1933 - Called to God: 2013 Our loving and graceful lady - wife, mother, grandmother, great grandmother, sister and friend - was called to our Father after sharing her love and life with God, her husband, family and friends for 79 years. She will ever be remembered for her love of family, always there to make each of us feel special, supporting us and giving of herself. The oldest of three children, Peggy was born to Hugh D. and Margaret Brown Dunlap in Dallas, Texas. She was a loving sister to her brothers, Devereux and Chris. While attending Highland Park High School in Dallas, she met Jere W. Thompson in 1949. Peggy attended the University of Texas at Austin and was a member of the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority. After Jere's graduation from the University, they were married on June 5, 1954. Jere was her love, and Peggy, Jere's. Together, they gave their love to each other and those around them. Even with Jere's travel, their hearts were always close together. Peggy and Jere have 7 children - Michael, Jere, Jr., Pat, Debbie, Kim, Chris and David - 23 grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren. "Peppy" as she was called by her grand- and great-grandchildren for her energy and high-spirits, loved family gatherings, large and small, and made every effort to attend the numerous events of every child, grandchild and great-grandchild. She was incredible in remembering every special occasion for her family. In love of her faith, she became a Eucharistic minister, and she and Jere often took the opportunity to administer the sacrament of Holy Communion to others throughout their travels and in Dallas. Actively involved in numerous organizations - public and non-public - she always did for others before doing for herself. Peggy will be missed for her faith, her values, her support, her love of family and friends. If those she touched only achieve half of what Peggy accomplished and gave, then we will have learned and loved well. ²

Living in Dallas, Texas in 1952⁵

Devereux Brown Dunlap, 77, died on December 5th, 2014 in Atlanta, GA. Born in Lubbock, Texas, Devereux attended Highland Park High School in Dallas. While a math major at the University of Texas, he, and two friends, set out to retrace Pizarro's route in South America in search of emeralds. As a graduate student at the University of New Mexico in Albuquerque, he also served in the Air National Guard. He then joined EF Hutton as an investment broker. He led his family hiking and camping in the New Mexico mountains, and photographed the beautiful panoramas. He patrolled the ski slopes at Sandia Peak as a volunteer, and eagerly led snow camping expeditions for training. He often recited poetry for family and friends and captured moments in clever turns of phrases for Toastmaster's meetings. Near retirement, he traded NM skis for a TX sailboat, walks at White Rock Lake, symphony, theater, and square dancing. He enjoyed his final five years with his grandchildren in Atlanta. Devereux was the son of Hugh and Margaret Dunlap and a brother to Margaret "Peggy" Thompson, who preceded him. Memories of Devereux will be treasured by his grandchildren, Henry and Jessica, sons, Joel and David, daughter-in-law, Laura, brother and sister-in-law, Chris and Maureen Dunlap, brother-in-law, Jere Thompson, and many nieces and nephews. He admitted gun killing of his mother’s fiance, Guy F. Roberts, a Hollywood advertising executive on Aug. 15, 1957.^{55 59} According to a newspaper article, Santa Monica, CA Charles Guy was age 22 in 1961. He had been released from the CA Youth Authority facility at Trac, CA the previous February after serving a sentence for car theft.⁵⁵ His first trial ended in a mistrial.⁵⁹

Charles spent several years in prison. His mother rarely visited; but his dad continued to offer his support and looked forward to eventually taking Charles with him to North Carolina.⁵⁴

Charles Lee Guy, III was convicted of involuntary manslaughter at 16 and spent his years in prison practicing singing and playing guitar. He sent an unsolicited demo to Capitol Records, and producer Ken Nelson, sensing a potentially lucrative gimmick, signed Guy. His sole album, The Prisoner's Dream, was recorded in a prison auditorium with Joe Maphis on acoustic guitar. The cover illustration depicts Guy strumming his guitar behind prison bars, and nearly all of the selections are prison songs. Spade Cooley, who was in prison at the time for killing his wife, contributed an original composition, "Cold Gray Bars," but most of the songs are well-known ones like "Folsom Prison," "The Prisoner's Song," and "Cigarettes, Whiskey and Wild, Wild Women."⁸²

Guy was incarcerated for involuntary manslaughter at age 16, sent to Vacaville Prison and later managed to mail a tape to Capitol. The entire album of 12 songs, also titled "The Prisoner's Dream", was cut in the Vacaville auditorium in late 1962 with Joe Maphis playing backup acoustic guitar. Guy had a bit of an identity problem on the album, which consisted of prison songs and other sentimental faves. The title track (an old Karl and Harty number) features him imitating Hank Snow. Shackles and Chains features a Marty Robbins imitation while They're All Goin' Home But Me shows off his best Jimmie Skinner voice.

Apparently Guy managed to go "home," because in 1964 he cut six more songs in Nashville with a backup band, all but one written by Harlan Howard. It was sadly ironic that he'd developed his own vocal style by then, and actually showed some real promise as a vocalist. But only one single resulted which went nowhere and Charles Lee Guy III disappeared into obscurity.⁸³
